STREAM subject, we studied coding and automation systems under the topic of "Follow line robot". Tiny has performed well in STREAM this semester. She engages well with peers, demonstrates creativity in coding design and her critical thinking is quite strong. She possesses a unique talent and interest in programming that surpasses that of her peers. She consistently seeks to think creatively and approaches coding with her own distinctive style.

World History and Geography I	David (David) Smith	Semester 1
Grade		99.33
Grade Level		A
Points		4.00
Credit		0.5
Tiny is a model student who demonstrates excellent command of PEEL paragraph structure, consistently supporting arguments with strong evidence. She works well with others, consistently participates in classroom discussions and supports her peers. She is also able to effectively analyze primary sources. For next semester, I encourage her to continue to go beyond the expectations of the assignment to further deepen her understanding of the content.

Thai	Pannapat (Aom) Wongtaweessup	Semester 1
Grade		95.75
